Prices of Choice fed steers at Ottawa may average $64 to $70 in 1983, compared with about $95 in 1982. With total meat production declining for the second straight year, plus modest improvement in real incomes and consumer confidence, retail beef prices are expected to gain 2 to 5 percent.

World pork trade probably declined slightly in 1982. Most of the drop is attributed to the U.S. and Canada, where exports fell almost 70,000 metric tonnes. On the import side, Japan's purchases have been particularly low, falling almost 55,000 tons. Prospects for 1983 do not call for any significant change.

Weakness in the global economy and limited growth in livestock production have reduced feed requirements nearly everywhere. In the United States, total output of red meats and poultry is anticipated to decline about 3 percent in 1993, and worldwide production is not expected to advance noticeably. The resulting weak demand for feed will intensify the price-depressing effect of large U.S. stocks.

The U.S. balance of trade in pork has deteriorated in 1982. Declining production, higher prices, and a strong dollar reduced exports by around 20 percent and boosted imports — especially from Canada — by 10 percent.

Large U.S. stocks.

total U.S. commercial pork production for 1983 may be 13.5 billion pounds, down 3 percent from 1982. This would be the third consecutive year of decline since 1980's record-large output. Financial pressures are limiting herd expansion, despite positive feeding margins.

Hog prices may average about $59 per cwt in 1983, compared with an estimated $58 in 1982. Prices in the first and second quarters are expected to average $58 to $62 per cwt. If the projected output of 5.65 billion pounds is realized, this would be the lowest first-half production since 1978 — resulting in the smallest per-capita consumption since 1976. The low production "will strengthen prices, though weak consumer purchasing power will likely limit the gains."

In the second half of 1988, hog prices are forecast to average $57 to $62 per cwt. Although pork production may rise, supplies will still be relatively tight. The economy is expected to start a modest recovery in the second quarter, with another tax cut scheduled for July.

The number of certified brucellosis-free herds in Texas at the end of 1982 is almost three times higher than in 1981, Dr. John W. Hakombe, executive director, Texas Animal Health Commission, Austin, reports.

Figures from the TARC reveal that as of the end of 1982 there are about 800 certified brucellosis-free herds in Texas; this compares with 200 at the Supply of slaughter cattle and hogs were larger Monday at the major central markets. Cattle increased by 2,400 head, and hog numbers were up 7,800, these figures were coupled with sharper lower quotations on best and pork lard. The market for hogs was more active, prices unevenly to sharply lower in this week's opening session. Many cattle were carrying varying amounts of muscling along with liberal numbers of fat. Cattle of yield grades 4 and 5 brought $10.00 to $10.50, which are reflected in the lower end of the market. Choice and prime steers and heifers were $11.00 to $11.50, and below. Slaughter cows and bulls were $9.00 to $10.00, and below. Hogs without steady and in limited supply, were $10.00 to $10.50, and below. About 80 percent of the hogs were a mix, so to lower the average. Prime trimmers, $11.00 to $11.50, and prime trimmers and bellers, $10.50 to $11.00, and below. Good and choice Holstein steers and cows, $10.00 to $10.50, and below. Good - 1.8 hogs scaling 200 to 280 pounds, $10.00 to $10.50, and below.

Commodities Comment
BY JERRY WELCH

The year 1982 came in like a lamb but it sure is going out like a lion. Even though the commodity markets are in a holiday period, there continues to be plenty of action, and most of it is bullish. The stock market reached its highest level in history this week, and that still appears to be the prime bullish force for most commodity prices. The first quarter of 1983 could show us some real "bull" moves in markets closely connected to the U.S. economy.

On the Chicago Board of Trade this week the lowly corn market continues to be the strongest grain. It seems that it's just impossible to break corn more than 3 cents. The farmers continue to withhold their grain from the market place. Until he begins to unload, prices should remain firm across the board. I like the long side of soybean meal at these levels. Right now the meal could be the key to grain prices near-term. At this writing March corn closed at $2.44, March wheat $3.80, March beans $5.73 and March meal $174.70.

On the Chicago Mercantile exchange, the long-awaited Pig-Cat Report turned out neutral. The report wasn't quite as bullish as the "bull" wanted, but it also indicated that a large-scale increase in hog production is looming on the horizon. The most complex in general continues to be with leadership. I can only suggest it traders buy sharp setbacks looking for a bull move as we enter the 1st quarter of 1983. At this writing February cat closed at $58.32, February hogs $58.1 and February bellies $80.42.

Gold and silver finally caught up this past week and moved sharp higher. Hopes of another discount cut, and fears of an international banking crisis are the main bullish forces. The more exotic metals such as platinum and palladium continue to be the metal markets higher. Palladium, for example, has rallied from $65, once in late October to $95 an ounce, of Wednesday. That's quite a move. I'm still bullish on metals. The up potential of gold is $500, silver $14 a platinum $420 an ounce. All it sometime by the 1st quarter of 1983, this writing February gold closed, $453, March silver $11.10, April platinum $982.50 an ounce.

The financial markets still act sleep. The charts on bills, bonds and GNMA look lumpy. The bull spreads in T-Bills are suggesting a near-term top in price could be near. I have mentioned before that one large financial institution continues to be a seller of March T-Bill over $92.15. As long as the Fed keeps cutting the discount rate, the financial should keep springing back. Have I trading these because I'm totally lost to what to do. I guess I would punt. At this writing March bonds closed $78.20, March T-Bills $92.25.

Sen. Lloyd Bentsen in his recent letter put his finger on what is wrong with the unemployment situation, however, how to fix it is something else entirely. Bentsen points out that on the basis of present figures there are about 2 1/2 million jobs waiting for someone out there. However, the people with the skills to handle 'em are simply not there.
Makin' skilled workers out of the refugees from the screw-a-nut jobs in the car industry and the smoke stack jobs in other industries presents no simple problem. Large numbers of unemployed workers are actually unemployable in the lines of work that need more help and how they can find the time and money to re-educate themselves in the skills that are needed poses a tough situation.
The New Year is here alright, but the same old problems are still around and unfortunately we will have most of the same old politicians tryin' to finger out how to solve 'em. To refer to this situation as clouded is to put it in the mildest face on it we can think of.
One thing is sure & certain. We're gonna have to do most of the job of straightenin' out the mess personally. Don't count on too much help out of Washington or the State capitals.
Ever thine,
The Editor.
P.S.: Uncle Sam notes where the U.S. Commercial Banks and grain companies received $344 million from the U.S. Govt. to pay for government-backed and unrepaid loans to Poland. There is another reported $495 million in Polish unrepaid government-backed loans which Uncle Sam will drop on these banks and grain companies soon. According to latest figures if Uncle Sam had to stand up and pay for all the Govt. backed loans it has out that worrisome trillion dollar debt would look like peanuts. How does $20 or $30

Blondes Produce Greater Profitability

The Texas Blonde d' Aquitaine Foundation, Inc. a state affiliate of the National Blonde d' Aquitaine Foundation was formed in 1981 and incorporated in early 1982. These two organizations are helping introduce the concept of greater profitability per cow/calf per acre.
The Blonde d' Aquitaine breed was first introduced into the United States by Sterling Transplant of Gunnison, Utah in 1975. Following the introduction from France, an intensive performance program was set up and the results proved a hardy, docile, fertile animal capable of producing calves averaging 3.5 lbs per day on the cow and continuing to gain equally as well in the feedlot with excellent feed conversion and a high cutability, averaging from 62% to 66% and up to 72% for exceptional animals.
Blondes have made great strides since arriving in the United States. Testing and research became a challenge to the Blonde breeders. Several Blonde Breeders in 1977 with favorable test results formed the National Blonde d' Aquitaine Foundation to collectively sponsor the Blonde breed.
With longevity and crossbreeding superiority, a terrific potential was found in Blondes once "pulling" for agriculture, now "producing" quality meat for the consumer.
The crossbred Blonde cow inherits width, shape, length of pelvis, and long conformation, which is found from birth in the young calf, contributing greatly to the ease of calving (national calving records show 95%-98% calving unassisted).
The result is a good mother with sufficient milk production allowing excellent growth rate of her progeny, weaning a calf 76-100 lbs more when compared to the average commercial straight bred British breeds of beef cattle.
The calves, at birth, look like any other calf, but start to muscle out quickly in two weeks of age. Crossbred Blondes are excellent hustlers and adapt quickly to various environments. Crossbreeding with Blondes improves size, growth, provides finer bone structure, and a higher meat density. This produces a greater cow/calf profitability per acre.
Picture these calves in your pasture with a Blonde crossbreeding program and enhance your "Profit Picture." Consider "Blondes" if your motive is "Beef Production."

SIMBRAH NEWS

Simbrah Bull Test To Finish Jan. 19 Sale Feb. 19

First All Simbrah Performance Bull Test is nearing completion. This set of 66 Simbrah bulls are broken into two groups, junior and senior, to aid in the comparison of bulls of similar age groups.

On December 14th, the bulls were weighed in after 84 days of test. The gain on both groups of bulls are very uniform. Senior bulls average weight at this time is 1288 lbs. and the average weight on the junior bulls was 835 lbs.

Considering that these bulls were consigned by 18 different Simbrah breeders, the uniform gain throughout the group is indeed impressive. The bulls will complete their 120 day test on at its Dec. 6 meeting, held in conjunction with the Purebred Board of Directors Symposium.

Dr. Earl Peterson, Bozeman, Mont., was also elected to a second term by the group. Peterson, the executive vice president of the American Simmental Association, holds the office of secretary-vice president.

The U.S. Beef Breeds Council comprises the chief executive officers of 15 breed associations. The breeds represented are the American Angus Association, American Brahman Breeders Association, American Chianina Association, American Hereford Association, American International Charolais Association, American Maine-Anjou Association, American Polled Hereford Association, American Simmental Association, Inc., American Shorthorn Association, Beefmaster Breeders Universal, International Brangus Breeders Association, North American Limousin Foundation, Red Angus Association of America, Santa Gertrudis Breeders International Association and the Texas Longhorn Breeders Association of America.

Cheaper Peso Hikes Illegal Immigration

U.S. than ever before.

Immigration and Naturalization Service reports indicate that variation of apprehensions is highly seasonal and is related to U.S. agricultural production.

January 19, 1983.

These qualifying will be sold in the First Annual Simbrah Classic Sale on February 19, 1983. This sale will include 15 select, purebred Simbrah heifers which will lead off with the Performance tested bulls immediately following.

Sale is scheduled on February 19th, the day after the Simbrah judging at the San Antonio Livestock Exposition. Lunch 12:00 noon. Sale will begin at 1:00 p.m. Sale and Performance site is the New Livestock Performance Center located on highway 90 west between San Antonio and Castrolville, Texas.

For further information, contact Sale Chairman, Ken Perry, P.O. Box 536, Castrolville, Texas 78009. (512) 588-2289 or (512) 588-2788.

Apprehensions generally peak between March and July and hit their lowest point in December. The number of U.S. wage and salary farm workers also follows this pattern.

Apprehension patterns are different among regions, however. The trend over the last 10 years shows that the region between New Mexico and the Gulf has experienced only small growth in apprehensions, while the region between the Pacific Coast and Arizona has been growing steadily. Furthermore, the region between the Pacific Coast and Del Rio, Texas had an observable growth in apprehensions after the 1978 peso devaluation, but the region from Del Rio to the Gulf experienced little or no change.

Assuming that apprehension rates accurately reflect illegal Mexican immigration, an increase in the number of illegal aliens in the first and second quarters of 1983 is likely. Mexican workers will be lured by the seasonal increase in agricultural activity and by higher dollar wages relative to peso wages induced by the 1982 devaluation. But if the 1978 experience is repeated, the increased entry should be concentrated mainly along the western section of the border. — Alberto E. Davila, Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas.

TEXAS BRANGUS

Brangus Bulls—The Budget Balance

In the 1980's the right bull can make the difference between a losing and a healthy profit. Brangus bulls can add as much as 100 lbs. per calf a year and that means more dollars at sale time. In addition, Brangus sire today's trend toward leaner beef and changing grade standards. Their ability to reach an acceptable grade in less time and yield a high percent of lean to fat gives them strong demand with feeders.

For the 80's, put Brangus bulls in your budget, and tip the balance in favor of profit.

HEREFORD NEWS

National Western Highlight for Herefords

Denver's National Western is always the highlight of the year among the livestock shows for Hereford breeders and the 1983 version has all the makings of another outstanding event for Whiteface enthusiasts.

Breeders from more than 25 states are expected to compete with some 1,000 head of Herefords for the $30,000 in prize money.

Nearly 600 head have been entered in "on the hill" Register of Merit halter class judging with a total of $25,000 in prize money being offered. In the carload division, "in the yards," nearly 800 head of bulls will be on display and in the competition which features 12 head of yearling bulls and 15 head of bull calves. This is the largest showing of carload bulls in the world and exemplifies the breeding program of an individual breeder. These bulls will be in competition on Saturday, January 15, with the yearling and senior calf classes, and Sunday, January 16, with the junior and spring bull calf classes and the championships.

The annual Hereford sale will feature some 60 high performing bulls and 50 females and is scheduled for Tuesday, January 18. It is often said that "no goes the Denver sale goes the Hereford industry for the rest of the year."

Activities for the Herefords kick off on Wednesday, January 12, with the junior division steer show, followed by the heifer show for juniors on Thursday, January 13. Social highlights of the Hereford activities include the Colorado Hereford Association buffet dinner on Sunday, January 16, and the annual Hereford social on Monday, January 17.

HERE'S THE BOTTOM LINE ON HEREFORD BULLS

MARC data compares Hereford bulls with bulls of these and other breeds in the same cowherd. The results bear out the dollar advantage you get by using Horned Hereford bulls... Significantly less calving problems (7% to 15% less), more calves (6% to 11% more) and more total pounds of calf to market (1500 to 2100 lbs. more for every 100 cows). Add to this the extra longevity and manageability and you have the bottom line on Hereford bulls. What's more important today?

National Western Highlight for Herefords

Denver's National Western is always the highlight of the year among the livestock shows for Hereford breeders and the 1983 version has all the makings of another outstanding event for Whiteface enthusiasts.

Breeders from more than 25 states are expected to compete with some 1,000 head of Herefords for the $80,000 in prize money.

Nearly 500 head have been entered in "on the hill" Register of Merit halter class judging with a total of $25,000 in prize money being offered. In the carload division, "in the yards," nearly 500 head of bulls will be on display and in the competition which features 12 head of yearling bulls and 15 head of bull calves. This is the largest showing of carload bulls in the world and exemplifies the breeding program of an individual breeder. These bulls will be in competition on Saturday, January 15, with the yearling and senior calf classes, and Sunday, January 16, with the junior and spring bull calf classes and the championships.

The annual Hereford sale will feature some 60 high performing bulls and 20 females and is scheduled for Tuesday, January 18. It is often said that "no goes the Denver sale goes the Hereford industry for the rest of the year."

Activities for the Herefords kick off on Wednesday, January 12, with the junior division steer show, followed by the heifer show for juniors on Thursday, January 13.

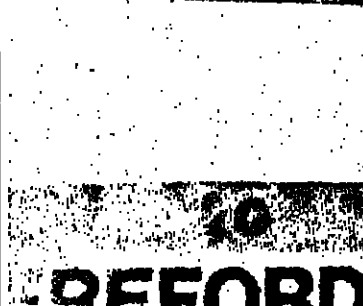

Social highlights of the Hereford activities include the Colorado Hereford Association buffet dinner on Sunday, January 16, and the annual Hereford social on Monday, January 17.

Healey Bros. Syndicate Bull Calf at $100,000

Healey Bros. Flying L Ranch, Davis, Okla., has announced the syndication of a 10-month old bull calf for an evaluation of $100,000. The Healeys sold half of the shares in the syndication for $50,000 and retained the other half of the shares as well as full possession in the young Hereford named Flying L Solitaire.

The syndicate, known as The Solitaire Syndicate, is composed of James Jack's Spur J Ranch at Sulphur, Okla.; Granite Hills Hereford Ranch, Llano, Tex.; Malm Ranch Co., Albion, Wyo.; and Watson Ranch, Morris, Okla.

Burke Healey describes the young herd sire as a full frame size larger than any bull ever produced at the Healey ranch. Both his sire, FL Peacemaker, and his grand sire, FL War Lord, have achieved 60-inch heights at maturity. His four-year-old dam stands 54 1/2 inches tall, weighs 1,725 pounds, and boasts a 551-day living interval after three calves, and her progeny have an average growth breeding value of 108.7 percent. She is a daughter of the Granite Hills sire, Grand Slam, which was the 1966 Denver champion and currently is the breed's fourth ranking yearling weight trait leader.

The Solitaire calf had an adjusted weight of 702 pounds at 205 days of age. At 335 days he already scales over

E.S.F. "Bud" Brannard, Canadian, TX, was the volume buyer at the CK Ranch Hereford bull sale, Nov. 22 in Brookville, KS.

1,100 pounds and measures 52 1/2 inches which gives him a current frame score of 7.3. "He's one of the largest Hereford calves I know of to be born and raised on his natural Hereford mother," comments Skip Healey. The syndicate intends to start collecting semen on the calf as quickly as possible for both commercial sales as well as use by syndicate members.

Governor-Elect Mark White To Speak At BET Meeting

Texas Governor-Elect Mark White will be the principal speaker at the Build East Texas annual meeting in Nacogdoches, February 1, 1983. According to Billy Percival, district director for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and BET coordinator, the governor's presentation will be during the banquet which begins at 6:00 p.m. The BET annual business meeting is scheduled at 4:00 p.m. in the Student Center on the campus of Stephen F. Austin State University. The Build East Texas program began in 1963 to enhance agriculture and agribusiness in 37 East Texas counties. The program is coordinated by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and is guided by farmers, ranchers and agribusiness people from throughout the area.

Serving as officers for the current year are Slay Mayo, chairman, Scottsville; Ed Waggoner, vice-chairman, Lufkin; and Jerry Nichols, secretary-treasurer, Nacogdoches. New officers will be elected at the February 1 meeting and the recipient of the Bill Clements Memorial Award will be named. All persons interested in East Texas agriculture are invited to attend the meeting.

Highway Comm. Eases Right-of-Way Purchases For Local Governments

Austin — A major policy change in the acquisition of right of way for US and State highways has been announced by the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission. Local levels of government now may request the department to accept initially an amount equal to 10 percent of the cost of needed right of way. The department will accept the voluntary contribution and take responsibility for the acquisition of the land. Previously, local governments were required to purchase the right of way and were later reimbursed at least 90 percent by the department. Some counties and cities have had difficulty funding the purchase prior to reimbursement thus delaying needed projects. Commission Chairman Robert Dedman said the new procedures will take financial pressure off local governments and should speed up projects by allowing a more orderly effort in acquiring needed right of way. Dedman emphasized the commission action was offered as an optional alternative to present procedures of right of way acquisition.

Texas Crude Output In October Declined

Austin — Texas crude oil production totaled 73,098,988 barrels in October, according to Railroad Commission Chairman Jim Nugent. The figure compares with reported September production totaling 71,732,070 barrels and October 1981 production of 75,146,863 barrels. Texas oil production averaged 2,357,845 barrels daily in October, down from 2,351,556 barrels daily in September and down from 2,424,086 barrels daily in October 1981.

Wallace Commends Entex On Heating Aid

Austin — Texas Railroad Commissioner Mack Wallace has commended Entex, Inc. for its leadership in establishing a heating help program for elderly and disadvantaged customers in its service area. In a letter to Entex board chairman Jackson Hinds, Wallace said "to my knowledge, your company's contribution of $100,000 to establish a voluntary program to help needy persons pay their natural gas heating bills is a 'first' for Texas."

In establishing the fund, Entex said social service agencies would select the persons to receive financial assistance for their gas heating bills. Wallace went on to say he hoped other gas utilities in the state would follow Entex's example and set up similar programs, including giving able ratepayers the opportunity to voluntarily overpay their bill as a tax deductible contribution to the program. He noted that over the last eight years, the average residential price per thousand cubic feet of gas has risen from $1.16 to $4.06, a 350 percent increase.

Proposed Rule to Require Run Tickets For Transporting Oil

Austin — The Railroad Commission has approved for public comment a proposed rule that would give law enforcement officials a way to track oil carried by truck in the state.

The proposed rule would require each transporter to prepare a separate run ticket each time oil is trucked from a lease or other facility. One copy must be left at the site the oil was removed from, another must remain in the transporting vehicle, and a third copy must be given to the receiver of the oil when it is delivered.

If the rule is adopted, failure of a transporter to carry a run ticket for oil being carried will provide law enforcement agencies a basis for detaining transporters suspected of oil theft.

Run ticket copies must be kept by each respective party for two years and must be available for inspection by Railroad Commission agents or law enforcement representatives.

The proposed rule requires that the run ticket identify the lease or facility from which the oil was taken, the point of destination, the quantity of oil being moved, the date and hour when the oil was removed from the lease or facility, and the identity of the transporter, including the driver's name.

Comments will be taken for 30 days after publication of the rule in the Texas Register, and then the proposed rule will be presented to the Commission for final consideration.
